is said to bring an upscale look. Reality is available in a 12-ounce and 16-ounce tumbler. Suggested retail prices range from $1.99 each open stock to $19.99 for a 16-piece set.

ARC International

ARC will be premiering its updated line of casual stemware and stemmed barware called Cachet. Cachet features a lighter overall feel with thinner sidewalls, which is said to provide enhanced clarity. The line also features a fine rim and a straighter, thinner stem design, as well as a few new bowl profiles following global fine stemware trends, according to the company. Cachet has a suggested retail price of $9.99. The line includes 19-ounce balloon and tulip wines, 16-ounce balloon and tulip wines, a 12-ounce tulip, an 8-ounce flute and a 10-ounce cocktail glass.

Bormioli Rocco

Bormioli Rocco will be making a statement with bright colors. The company has updated its classic Oslo espresso and cappuccino mugs with colorful, frosted bases. Four colored bases are offered in orange, blue, lime and espresso. The handles are rounded for a contemporary look characterized by clean, ergonomic lines. Oslo comes in two sizes, a 7.4-ounce cappuccino and a 3.4-ounce punch.

Purple, lime green, orange and blue also grace Bormioli Rocco's Sorgente, Bodega, Tulip and Giara lines. Sorgente features an organic design said to be inspired by the mountain streams that flow from the Italian Alps. It is available for a suggested retail price of $7.99. Bodega is classically shaped; the 7.4-ounce glass has a wide opening that is designed to be ideal as a water glass, or as a snack holder. The Bodega line is available for a suggested retail price of $3.50 per piece. Tulip's dessert cup features sturdy footings and a larger-sized glass bulb. Bormioli Rocco's Giara bottle collection is available as open stock with an MSRP of $4.50 each.

Bormioli will also introduce Pegaso, which features a wide base to guarantee stability and a firm grip, while adding freshness to the table, according to the company. It comes in a 17.5-ounce cooler and a 12.25-ounce double old-fashioned glass. It will be available for a suggested retail price of $6.90 for a four-piece set.

Dansk

Dansk's new Centric SW glasses are mouth-blown stems featuring hand-cut concentric circles. Available in a wine glass, all-purpose beverage glass and champagne/dessert saucer. Centric has a suggested retail price of $15 each.

Lenox

Lenox will add new shapes to its Solitaire and Firelight collections: a balloon and all-purpose stem. Both of these stems feature bowls that are more generous in size than what is currently available. These larger shapes, according to Lenox, have been added to "keep in line with the changing desires of our consumers." The suggested retail on the Solitaire stems is $35, and Firelight is $48.

Libbey

Libbey's Midtown Martini nine-piece set features four 12-ounce martini glasses, four stainless steel olive picks and one square olive bowl. The set, which follows the home entertaining and vodka trends, is available for a suggested retail price range of $19.99 to $24.99.

For wine enthusiasts, Libbey will also introduce its Gatherings five-piece decanter set, featuring a 40-ounce decanter and four 16-ounce wine glasses, all with a soft, satin grape decoration. It has a suggested retail price range of $19.99 to $24.99.

Libbey's Province 20-piece Family Set is designed to provide a "big glass for big thirsts and a little glass for not-so-big thirsts," according to the company. The glassware features a tall, thin profile and features a thick shank to provide durability. It has a suggested retail price range of $19.99 to $24.99.

Lifetime Brands

Following the animal print fashion trend, Mikasa Safari's print stemware is sold in assorted sets of four designs: giraffe, leopard, zebra and tiger. These dishwasher safe, European made etched glasses are available for a suggested retail of $49.99 for a set of four glasses.

Mikasa will also offer Duos, sold in pairs of white wines, balloon goblets, martinis and flutes. They have a suggested retail of $19.99 per pair.

Luigi Bormioli
